

Websites and Resources for Kids on Minecraft

Understanding their own learning, and how video games, like Minecraft, can help them to learn, can be a difficult task both for parents and kids. The way kids and teens learn today has changed drastically, so it might be beneficial for kids to turn to the Internet to understand how video games can help them like these resources for kids on Minecraft. Of course, some websites are better than others, which is why we've put together a list of some of the best resources for kids. Check out the links below and show them to your child! Don't forget to check back frequently for updated resources.

Websites

Minecraft: The main website to purchase and download Minecraft. Ask your parents to help you get this fantastic game!

Minecraft Buildings Inc: A forum page that has tons of videos posted on how to build awesome things in Minecraft you didn't think were possible. Perfect for those who love architecture and building.

Minecraft Redstone Schematics: Big fan of electronics and redstone in Minecraft? Check out these amazing creations people have made using redstone.

Pinterest

Learning with Minecraft: Everything amazing on the web for Minecraft in one place for my Minecraft crazed kids. Learning and playing with Minecraft by Homeschool Encouragement.

Minecraft Learning: A great collection of Minecraft material and Minecraft game recommendations that positively influence learning.

Visit the South County Child & Family Consultants website for more great articles!