3rd Annual Executive Function Conference

Our friends over at the Research Institute for Learning Development are hosting the 3rd annual executive function conference for parents in Burlington Massachusetts. This conference is great for parents and (educators) looking to learn valuable information on the effects that executive function weaknesses have on the lives of kids. Check out the flyer below for the schedule and more information!

Download (PDF, 670KB)