

Videos on Writing for Parents and Kids

Many children struggle with writing either by hand or typing. Kids can be unmotivated to start writing or have issues with translating their thoughts onto paper. Luckily this is a common problem and there are some great videos out there that will help teach parents and kids some memorization strategies of basic writing rules and methods of getting started and staying focused. This post has links to several different videos for both parents and kids that will help your child feel more confident in their writing ability and give parents some advice on how to help their child grow their writing skills.

Our team of neuropsychologists, school psychologists, and psychology students at South County Child and Family Consultants are committed to searching the Internet and beyond to find reputable, informative, and practical tools to help parents, children, and teens improve their writing skills. We look for the best information online to help kids diagnosed with ADHD, Learning Disabilities, Executive Functioning Difficulties, struggles with Social Emotional Learning (SEL) skills, Autism, Depression, and Anxiety and provide you with information about how neuropsychological evaluations help in targeting concerns with writing skills. Come back regularly, as the links are updated frequently.
