

Four Ways To Help a Child Who Doesn't Learn From Mistakes

Select "download this as a pdf"

Four Ways to Help a Child Who Doesn't Learn from Mistakes

How do you help a child who refuses to admit he has made a mistake?

- 1 Give them clear and consistent permission to make mistakes
- 2 Model and teach positive self-talk, that helps to recognize that they can and will learn from mistakes
- 3 Make and model mistakes "accidentally" -on-purpose
- 4 Demonstrate how you are always learning from your mistakes.

The infographic features a cartoon illustration of a young boy with brown hair, wearing a red and white shirt, green shorts, and blue sneakers. He is sitting at a blue desk with a yellow computer monitor, a yellow keyboard, and a small potted plant. He is wearing large white headphones and looking towards the camera with a slight smile. The background is a bright yellow with a blue curved shape behind the boy.